Tales from the Vienna Woods

Away, away, away with me
To roam the forest pathways free
Where wonder walks unheard, unseen,
Thro' dim-lit aisles and halls of green!
Away, away to sunny glades,
To ferny dells and secret shades,
(O leafy world, how lovely!)

Hurry then away with me
To the forest pathways free!
(O the green world, O the green world!)
With the pretty wildwood flowers
Let us deck the happy hours!
And we'll crown ev'ry moment a queen!

Deep in the forest walks Lady Wonder,
Threading the leafy ways under and under;
Nearer and nearer; List! do you hear her?
Nay! 'tis the wind, 'tis the wind in the trees.

In the tops of the trees a merry wind is playing
Green leaves are dancing, retreating, advancing;
To the tune of the breeze the tree-tops are swaying;
Dancing, romancing; 'tis wonderful!

They bow, they glance: they sway, they dance;
Now to, now fro; now high, now low;
Now dark, now bright, now lost to view;
My heart, my heart is pirouetting too.
